Ross is most beautifully situated in a commanding position, surrounded by lofty hills, on the left bank of the Wye. It is mentioned in Domesday Book, and received its first charter from Stephen; Henry III made the town a free borough. It was the centre of severe fighting during the Civil War and Henry IV. Charles I and George IV all visited the town during their reigns.

 Thanks for P.C. Sorry I have not sent you one before but I have been busy.

 Hear from your Aunt you are coming down for a week or two later is it right. shall be very pleased to see you. Thank you very much for the advice you gave me, you might give me the addresses of a few of those you mean for I am not a confirmed bachelor you know, so try again, Charlie
